

PROGRAM OUTCOME – COURSE BMS:

The learning outcome of BMS is very much linked to the program outcome. Learners of BMS during their phase of graduation learn various subjects of Commerce & Management. Through these subjects they develop various skills through a plethora of subjects.

- To provide comprehensive management training to students by way of interactions, projects, presentations, industrial visits, practical training, job orientations and placements.
- To create additional avenues of self-employment and to benefit industry by providing them with suitably trained persons in the field of management and finance.
- To provide adequate basic understanding about management and finance education to the students.
- To provide adequate exposure to the operational environment and to inculcate training and practical approach by using modern technology in the field of management and finance.